

Dear Joanne,

Good Morning! Thank you for the great dinner last night with Dad Faust. And love.

Because of piano tonight I will rush to press before tonight. Please do my dishes and kitchen. Thank you.

*Regarding our state: I think we do have a valid case. I believe that our honest and faithful upholding of the truth, facing consequences with peace and love, can only be the best preparation for life that our children can have. We owe it to ourselves and to them to respect the state of marriage only in the highest of terms. Let's seek the truth of ourselves, find it, face it, live with it, love it, uphold it. Love,

Besides having the Dictionary of Philosophy in your home, you have a special book that you will now find on the table.

'Religion' is the coming back to oneness with our truth. In that effort, before people hold tight to the real Truth, they hold to 'approximate truth'. That is why there seems to be so many 'religions'. Yet, there is only one full real Truth, many times hidden from us. That one Truth leads to one Religion. Never live on the negative side of things; so do not reject any person for his or her beliefs; love the person; share your truth with them and appreciate the truth-level they hold. Advance as you can personally.

Love,

Dad
